"I WOULD RATHER BE RIGHT THAN BE PRESIDENT."—Henry Clay.

VOL. II. RALEIGH, MONDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 18, 1867. NO. 164.

"Cousin Sally Dillard."

In these gloomy times, when men born free in a free Republic formed by Washington and the fathers, are threatened with political slavery by a despotic majority, we may as well laugh as cry, since there is no help for it, but quiet submission or removal. Hence we produce to-day Cousin Sally Dillard, which some of our young readers have never seen.

Cousin Sally Dillard.

BY HAMILTON C. JONES.

SCENE—A Court of Justice in North Carolina.

A beardless disciple of Themis rises and thus addresses the Court: "May it please your worships and you, gentlemen of the jury, since it has been my fortune (good or bad I will not say) to exercise myself in legal disquisition, it has never befallen me to be obliged to prosecute so direfully marked an assault—a more wilful, violent, and dangerous battery, and finally a more diabolical breach of the peace, has seldom happened in a civilized country; and I dare say it seldom has been your duty to pass upon one so shocking to benevolent feelings, as this which took place over at Captain Rice's in this county; but you will hear from the witnesses."

The witness being sworn, two or three were examined and desposed: One said that he heard the noise but did not see the fight; another that he saw the row, but did not know who struck first, and another that he was very drunk and couldn't say much about the skrimmage.

Lawyer Chops—I am sorry, gentlemen, to have occupied your time with the stupidity of the witnesses examined. It arises, gentlemen, from a misapprehension on my part. Had I known, as I now do, that I had a witness who was acquainted with all the circumstances of the case, and who was able to make himself clearly understood to the court and jury, I should not have trespassed so long on your patience. Come forward, Mr. Harris, and be sworn.

So forward comes the witness, a fat, chuffy old man, a "leetle" corned, and took his oath with an air.

Chops—Harris, we wish you to tell about the riot that happened the other day at Captain Rice's and a good deal of time has already been wasted in circumlocution, we wish you to be compendious, at the same time as explicit as possible.

Harris—Adzakly (giving the lawyer a knowing wink, at the same time clearing his throat.) Captain Rice he gin a treat, cousin Sally Dillard she come over to our house and axed me if my wife she mouth't go. I told cousin Sally Dillard that my wife was poorly, being as how she had a touch of rheumatics in the hip, and the big swamp was up in the road, there havin' been a great deal of rain lately, but howsomever as it was she, cousin Sally Dillard, my wife she mout go. Well, cousin Sally Dillard then axed me if Mose he mouth't go. I told cousin Sally Dillard that he was foreman of the crap, and the crap was smartly in the grass; but, howsomever, as it was she, cousin Sally Dillard, Mose he mout go.

Chops—In the name of common sense, Mr. Harris, what do you mean by this rigmarole?

Witness—Captain Rice he gin a treat, and cousin Sally Dillard she came over to my house and axed me if my wife she moun't go, and I told cousin Sally Dillard—

Chops—Stop, sir, if you please; we don't want to hear about your cousin Sally Dillard, or your wife; tell us about the fight at Rice's.

Witness—Well, I will, sir, if you will let me.

Chops—Well, sir, go on.

Witness—Well, sir, Captain Rice he gin a treat, and cousin Sally Dillard she came over to my house, and axed me if my wife she mout go.

Chops—Here it is again. Witness, please to stop.

Witness—Well, sir, what do you want?

Chops—We want to know about the fight, and you must not proceed with this impertinent story. Do you know anything about the matter before the Court?

Witness—To be sure I do.

Chops—Well, go on, then, and tell it, and nothing else.

Witness—Well, Captain Rice he gin a treat—

Chops—This is intolerable. May it please the court, I move that the witness be committed for a contempt. He seems to be trifling with this court.

Court—Witness, you are before the court of justice, and, unless you behave yourself in a more becoming manner, you will be sent to jail; so begin and tell me what you know about the fight at Rice's.

Witness, somewhat alarmed—Well, gentlemen, Captain Rice he gin a treat, and cousin Sally Dillard—

Court—(after deliberating)—Mr. Attorney, the court is of opinion that we may save time by letting the witness go on in his own way. Proceed, Mr. Harris, with your story, but stick to the point.

Witness—Yes, gentlemen. Well, Captain Rice he gin a treat, and cousin Sally Dillard came over to our house and axed me if my wife she mouth't go. I told cousin Sally Dillard that my wife she was poorly, being as how she had the rheumatis in her hip, and the big swamp was up; however, as it was she, cousin Sally Dillard, my wife she mout go. Cousin Sally Dillard then axed me if Mose he mouth't go. I told cousin Sally Dillard as how Mose was the foreman of the crap, and the crap was smartly in the grass, but howsomever, as it was she, cousin Sally Dillard, Mose he mout go.—So they goes on together, Mose, my wife, and cousin Sally Dillard, and they comes to the big swamp, and it was up, as I was tellin' you; but being as how there was a log across the big swamp, cousin Sally Dillard and Mose, like genteel folks, they walked the log, but my wife, like a darned fool, jest histed her coats and waded right through—Chops—Heaven and earth, this is too bad; but go on.

Witness—Well that's all I know about the fight.

"Pap," observed a young urchin of tender years to his fond parent, "does the Lord know everything?" "Yes, my son," replied the hopeful sire; "but why do you ask that question?" "Because our preacher, when he prays, is so long telling the Lord everything, I thought he wasn't posted." The parent reflected.

OBJECTION 1.

I'M TOO POOR; I CAN'T AFFORD IT.

ANSWER.

If you are too poor to save less than half a dollar per week, at from 30 to 35 years of age, or proportionately at other ages, and find it so difficult to do so, should you be taken away by death, how bitterly poverty will strike home to your widow and children, or those dependent on you! Is it not worth a struggle to avoid this, and give them at least $1,000 by paying so small a sum? It costs just $2,00 per month to insure $1,000 at the age of 32 years.

OBJECTION 2.

I've talked to several of my friends, and they all advise me to have nothing to do with it.

ANSWER.

Will your friends undertake to provide for those you leave behind, in case you do not live long enough to save money? Ask them, and be guided by their answer.

OBJECTION 3.

I can't make up my mind; call again.

ANSWER.

Your other objections have been answered. I appeal to your own common sense to answer this for yourself, aided by

THREE PRACTICAL REFLECTIONS.

FIRST.—Nothing is so uncertain as Life.

SECOND.—No provision is perfect that is contingent upon the duration of your Life, which is not immediate.

THIRD.—The only immediate provision is that provided by Life Insurance.

The Fall Session of this Institution closed 23rd. day of December. The Spring Session opened the 1st. Wednesday in January, and will continue 20 weeks.

The success of this school has been without a parallel. A new building has just been completed, by which a large additional number can be accommodated. We are determined to make our pupils as comfortable as they can be made anywhere, and to afford them all the advantage for a thorough and extensive education, that can be found at any First class Female College, North or South.

The location is a most delightful one. The Mineral Water is too well known to the whole country to need a remark. Even invalid young ladies may secure a thorough education, and at the same time the restoration of their health. Reference is made to every intelligent Physician in the State, as well as to the hundreds who have found relief here.

The young ladies all worship in the College Chapel, and hence no extra clothing is required. In the single item of dress parcels can save 25 per cent. of the entire expense incurred by sending to Boarding Schools located in cities or villages. This Institution is certainly one of the cheapest and most easy of access in the Southern States. Besides, it offers the most superior advantages in every respect.

A PROPOSITION.

IN WHICH YOU ARE INTERESTED.

I PROPOSE for the protection of the citizens of Raleigh and surrounding country, against the imposition of those so-called Coat Stores, to furnish each and every person, the New York Cost of any goods they may want to buy; by this means they can tell whether they are buying goods at Cost or paying a profit on them.

Call before going to any of those Coat Stores so-called, and let me give you a memorandum of Cost prices.

Most of my large stock I will sell at cost but I have goods that I will not sell in that way, and neither will those merchants who make such a flourish about selling at Cost.

No merchant in this place has purchased his Goods any cheaper than I bought mine. Any assertion to the contrary is false; and I will guarantee to sell Goods as low as any Cost House. All I ask is an opportunity to prove the truthfulness of this assertion.

AN INVALUABLE DISCOVERY,

BY WHICH

Water can be Turned into Money.

Truly has it been said, "That the riches of this world, lie buried in the bowels of the earth." The precious metals that are daily taken from thence, readily procure all the luxuries and comforts—save, the great boon to the sick, Health—without which, life is a burden, and the millions of the Rothchilds' would fail to secure.

To females suffering from Leucorrhœa, (or Whites, as it is commonly called,) I, as a Physician of many years experience, would say, that you need not longer endure a miserable life of pains, aches and general debility, or weakness, the consequence of this deplorable disease.

All Physicians, of modern teaching, will admit the great difficulties in arresting this destroyer of health, for various reasons unnecessary to mention. Patients suffering therefrom will as readily agree, that medicines, however carefully prepared and used fail, in most instances, to afford relief; and in many, from long continuance, produce debility, thereby increasing the malady they were expected to relieve.

Deeming it a great privilege so be a public benefactor, and add to the comforts of the afflicted, by placing before them means of relief, I here give the history of a few cases of great interest that have fallen under my professional care.

Mrs. ——, a lady of the highest standing in the city of Charlotte, N. C., had been an incessant sufferer from Leucorrhœa for three years. Her cheeks were blanched, her skin always cold and almost transparent—in fact she seemed not to have a red corpuscle in her body. So weak was she, that it was with great difficulty she could ascend a flight of stairs, without feeling faint and exhausted. Palpitation of the heart, head-aches, a dizziness in the head, besides excruciating pain in the back, together with a bearing-down sensation in the region of the womb, were constant and alarming. Notwithstanding they were but a few symptoms of extreme debility, induced or kept up by the never ceasing drain from her system. In this condition, every means at my command was used for her relief. Remedy after remedy was tried. Every means recommended by our modern authors proved worthless in her case. Hearing of the case of a servant, whom I had formerly treated, (belonging to Mr. Cross,) having been very much benefitted by this mineral water, I resolved, (without further inquiry,) as the last resort, to recommend to her its use. Anxious to be restored, once more to health, she readily acceded to my proposition, and visited this well daily. Soon improvement was visible, and in the short space of three months her health was entirely restored. A living monument to the great curative virtues of this water.

The next case of great interest is that of the servant woman already spoken of. Seven years previous to the discovery of this well, Mr. Cross engaged my services in the care of this woman. I made most careful examination and searched out all of the particulars of her history. She had suffered for 18 years with Leucorrhœa, and being sorely afflicted therefrom, it was universally known in our community, that she was the martyr of the town. I found her with all of the distressing symptoms attending this malady, and could only afford her temporary relief. Time passed on, and still her afflictions did not abate. She abandoned all hope of recovery, and resolved to take no medicines, but to resign herself to the fate which seemed to await her. Her master just then having discovered this well, advised that she should drink freely of the water, as it might be of some benefit to her. Like a drowning man catching at straw, she tried it, and improvement was soon perceptible. Perseverance was crowned with success, and this day she is a strong and healthy woman, and can be seen at the residence of her former master, and will take great pleasure in relating, in detail, to any visitors, the history of her case.

Many other cases known to us, of equal interest, have been cured, and others are being daily benefitted.

It is to be regretted that the pecuniary embarrassments incident to the late war precludes the idea of Mr. Cross' fitting up this valuable property, as a resort for invalids. Under these circumstances, the owner (Mr. George Cross, of Charlotte, N. C.,) is willing to dispose of his property at the very reasonable price of $10,000 in U. S. currency, and will communicate with any one either by letter or personally.

The plantation of 100 acres of fine and productive land is situated within one and a half miles of the city of Charlotte, N. C., immediately on the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad. A fine residence, with modern improvements and conveniences, together with all necessary buildings attached, have just been completed, and to capitalists seeking investments no finer inducements could be offered.

Mr. Sherman's Substitute.

It will be seen by our telegraphic reports that the effort to pass the Stevens' bill in its original shape failed, and that a substitute submitted by Mr. Sherman, of Ohio, was adopted on Sunday morning at 6 o'clock, by the Senate, by a vote of 29 to 10.

The analysis of the bill, as furnished by the telegraph, does not afford, we presume, such a view of its provisions as enables us to form a satisfactory opinion of its character. Enough, however, is known to satisfy us that it is bad enough. The States are by this bill placed under strict military rule, and individuals violating military orders or the peace of the country, will be subject to trial before the military courts, without recourse to the civil law of the State. This state of things will continue until the State shall proceed to form a new Constitution, by calling a Convention to be elected by all males 21 years of age, residents of the States for a year, without regard to color, except such as are or may be disfranchised for a participation in the rebellion or for felony. The Constitution formed by the Convention must be submitted to the people, and approved by the voters and by Congress, but until the State Legislatures shall adopt the constitutional or Howard amendment, their Senators and Representatives will not be admitted, and then they must be able to take the test oath.

What no doubt will please Congress most, will be the determination of the States to submit quietly to military rule until after the next President election, and make no movement towards complying with the terms prescribed, until after that event. Others no doubt are vindictive enough to hope, that the South will so demean itself, that they will have the shadow of justification for the general extermination of the true Southern whites. This hope will be disappointed. The South has sworn to be true to the government, and our people—those who can be relied upon for an intelligent and virtuous fulfilment of their obligations, will submit to law.

But this bill will hardly become the law of the land. The President and the Supreme Court will hardly stand by and see the Constitution so grossly violated and the most sacred rights of the people trampled upon. In no sense can it be said that the Southern States are in an attitude of hostility to the general government. Nowhere in the Constitution is Congress empowered to make war upon an unoffending people. If disorder exists in the South, it is chargable directly upon the course of Congress. Where Congress has carried out its plan most fully, as in Tennessee, there is more disorder and more cause for uneasiness than anywhere else. And the inauguration of such a system as this bill contemplates, will tend more to breed disturbances than anything else.

Our Merchants.

Perhaps no suggestion is needed by the merchants of this State, in regard to Spring purchases. The present indications of stagnation in business in the Northern cities, is ominous of what may be expected in commercial matters growing out of the present posture of political affairs.

It ought to be perfectly apparent to every one that our condition forbids extravagance and waste in every particular. At no period of our distresses have economy and frugality been more necessary among our people than at present.—The unsettled state of public affairs admonish our people, that the productive power of the State will not be equal to the past year. The indifference of laborers to work and the efforts made to induce them to go further South, leave little room to hope that the crop of the present year will equal that of the past. Money, therefore, cannot be more easily obtained than in the past.

We, therefore, judge that our merchants will protect their own interests and do a service to their friends and patrons, by buying this Spring very judiciously, limiting their purchases to what they feel assured must be bought and paid for. Goods are so easily obtained, that it is not so necessary, as in former days, to purchase largely at a time. What is lacking can be easily supplied, hence, we hope their first purchases will be small.

TOWN PROPERTY.—An important sale of city property took place to-day, belonging to the estate of the late W. J. Lougee. It embraced three building lots, on Fayetteville Street, lying on each side of Tucker's Hall. The first lot adjoined Mr. Fentress, and was bought by Mr. Phil. Theim for $3,353; the second lies between that and Tucker's Hall, and was bought by Alex. M. McPheeters, for $3,850; and the third, lying between Tucker's Hall and Mr. Grunsman's store, was bought by Mr. A. S. Lougee, for $5,550. The sale was made at 12 months credit, and upon the whole was well sold for the times.

CASWELL COURT.—Judge Mitchell was present to hold the special term of the Superior Court of Caswell, last week, but the parties concerned were not present and he adjourned the Court. The Danville Times says, there was "no money," but the people were talking about their good crop of yellow leaf tobacco. There's money behind or before one.

Gov. Parsons, of Alabama, is in the city, and will remain a day or two. He visited the Legislature to-day, and was introduced to a number of members.

THE JOHNSTON WILL CASE.—This case which has occupied nearly two weeks at Edenton, before Judge Merrimon, we presume has not yet closed. The only thing we have heard from it, is contained in the following extract from a correspondent of the Norfolk Journal of Saturday last:

Just at this time there is very little business doing. Business and interest of all kinds seems to be swallowed up in a case now pending relative to the last will and testament of the late James C. Johnston. The heirs have contested it, on the plea that Mr. Johnson, when the will was made, was insane. The ablest lawyers in the State are employed, either for or against this will; and I doubt if, since the trial of Aaron Burr, there has been such giant intellects pitted in a like suit. Judge A. S. Merrimon, of Ashville, presides. Though quite young, he possesses one of the first legal minds in the State. It will be quite sufficient for my purpose to mention the names of the distinguished gentlemen who compose the counsel in this case:

REMARKS OF
Mr. Berry, of Orange,

Submitted in the Senate on the 11th instant, in favor of the bill to authorize the Public Treasurer to issue bills of credit.

MR. SPEAKER: Before entering on the consideration of the bill now before us, there is one proposition we can all agree upon; that is, that the great responsibility rests on this General Assembly of adopting some measure which will restore the State to her ancient credit. I presume there is not a dissenting voice to this proposition. The inquiry then is how is this important matter to be accomplished. The starting point to accomplish this great good is to restore public confidence; for without this there can be no prosperity, for the State nor for the people. It must be conceded that at this time, there is a universal want of confidence in the integrity of the State, and with the people, one with another. This being the case, it is the duty of the General Assembly to give this subject their serious consideration, which I hope the Senate will do. I will promise to be as brief in my remarks as the importance of the subject will permit. About twelve months ago the Public Treasurer submitted his annual report to the General Assembly then in session. In that report he recommends the funding of the interest of the State debt. The General Assembly adopted his recommendation and authorized the Public Treasurer to fund the same; has it increased the value of our State bonds?

They were then worth in the market forty-five cents in the dollar; they are worth no more to day. What then have we accomplished by authorizing the creating of three and one half millions of principal debt? All that we have accomplished for the State is to increase the interest. She has to pay two hundred and ten thousand dollars per annum. Senators you can perceive then, that this funding system has been a complete failure. It has failed to appreciate the State credit, and it has failed to afford any relief to the people. The Public Treasurer has made another report to the present General Assembly. Has he again recommended the funding system, or has he recommended any other plan? No, Senators, he is as silent as the grave. He has thought proper to throw the whole responsibility on you; he has suggested no scheme, though he spoke encouragingly of our prospects in the future. I will do the Treasurer the justice to say, that when this bill was under consideration before the Finance Committee, that after I made my argument, he was called upon to reply. He took ground against the scheme on the ground of its unconstitutionality, and that it would not restore public confidence, but would depreciate it. I replied to these objections, I think, successfully, as the report of the Committee will show seven in favor and three against the bill. After the arguments were closed, one of the Committee called upon the Treasurer for his plan. He frankly said he had no plan to recommend, except taxation. Then, Senators, this same recommendation was tested in the House the other day, in the consideration of the resolution introduced in that House by Col. Cowan, from New Hanover, and was defeated. These resolutions propose first, that the Finance Committee should be required to report bills, first to authorize the Public Treasurer to fund the interest of the State debt up to the first of January, 1867. Secondly, to borrow money to pay the interest of the State debt as it became due in 1867. Thirdly, to levy a tax for 1868. Then, Senators, you have before you four distinct propositions to accomplish the great object we all have in view, the restoration of public confidence. I propose to discuss the merits of these different propositions in the order they present themselves.

The Public Treasurer has abandoned the funding system, and so have I. I voted for it in 1866 because I failed in getting through a bill similar to the one we have now under consideration, and my anxiety was so great to sustain the credit of the State, that I voted for this bill without much consideration. But, Senators, I have since considered this subject well, and am convinced that no individual, State, Government or Empire, can adopt this system of compounding the interest of its debts for a series of years, but what will be eventually crushed and ruined. Think for a moment, Senators, the insignificant sum of one hundred dollars compounded for one hundred years, yields the enormous sum of one hundred thousand dollars; and if we compound our State debt for twelve years, instead of fourteen millions, we create a debt of twenty-eight millions. Then, in that short period it puts it beyond our reach and control. We all agree then that this funding system must be abandoned.

Secondly, it is proposed to authorize the Public Treasurer to borrow money to meet the interest for 1867. He has eight hundred thousand dollars to borrow; he would have to go into the market with two millions of State bonds to meet the interest for 1867, and certainly no sane man would entertain such a proposition for a moment, I think, Senators, that it is demonstrated to the satisfaction of every member of this body, that this plan will not do.

Thirdly, Taxation is proposed; let us examine the practicability of this plan at this time. If this plan is adopted we would have to levy a tax for the next two years to carry us up to the meeting of the next General Assembly, of two millions of dollars; before we proceed to impose this burden on our people let us examine their ability to pay.

The unfortunate heresy, that has been taught in these Halls for the last fifteen or twenty years, by those who controlled the destiny of the State, to make large appropriations of money, without levying a tax at the same time to meet the debt, has fixed upon this generation the enormous burden of fourteen million of dollars, at a time, too, when we have lost two hundred and fifty million of our property, and have to pay a heavy direct tax to the national government, to levy a tax to meet the ordinary expenses of the State government, is about all we can do. The question then returns, how is the fifteen hundred thousand dollars to meet the interest on the State debt, the next two years to be provided for? The only feasible plan that presents itself to my mind, is the passage of the bill under consideration. This plan has succeeded in restoring public confidence in other States, and why not in ours? It is endorsed by some of our ablest statesmen and jurists, and why not give it a trial for the next two years. This plan has been tried in South Carolina, and these bills rank at par with national currency, as I am informed by men of that State. It has been tried in Maryland, when her State securities were down to forty cents in the dollar.—It acted like a charm. State bonds went up in a very short time. Her debt was about the same of ours, fifteen million. Adopt this system and the time these bills have to run, we save one half million of dollars in the way of interest, and create a currency which will answer all the purposes, not only of paying taxes, but the common transactions between the people. But those who oppose this scheme would be for it, but they fear depreciation; these fears are groundless, and without foundation. A tax is levied to meet the payment of these bills at maturity which will necessarily give them credit, and they will rank at par with greenbacks, and I have no fears of their depreciation. Senators seem to forget that currency is an unnecessary thing, and is based upon public confidence alone, and the enquiry should be, how are we to bring this desirable thing about. Is it by distrusting the integrity of the State; or is it by manifesting a generous confidence in the honesty and integrity of our old mother, whose fair fame ranked as high as any State in the Union before she was compelled by the the United States government to repudiate the war debt; but I don't consider this her own voluntary act. With prudent and wise legislation, she will soon retrieve her lost fame for honesty and integrity, and resume her proud position amongst her sister States, and wipe out the foul stain of repudiation, I hope forever. Senators, we are on the margin of a precipice, we should pause and consider the situation, and act with a view of regaining our proud position. This once accomplished we are safe, for we will have the history of the past to guide us in the future. But, Senators, if we fail to provide to sustain the credit of the State, at this time, the consequences are obvious. In the first place we tarnish the fair fame of the State, and place her in a doubtful position; the consequence will be public confidence will be destroyed, and all State securities will depreciate to a mere nominal value, the brokers then will reap a rich harvest, and the unfortunate holders of these securities, in many instances, will be ruined, and the fearful responsibility of this ruin will rest on this General Assembly.

Mr. Speaker, I labored in the last General Assembly to get a bill through, similar to the one now under consideration, but it failed. I desired that some other member of this General Assembly should propose some plan to carry out the objects set forth in this bill; one session passed away and no such bill was introduced. The Public Treasurer, whose duty to mature a plan, failed to do it and threw the whole responsibility on you. This is the only plan that has been presented.

Let us then rally to the support of this bill, and break down the lobby influence that is brought to bear against it, of those whose sole object it is to depreciate State securities. I call upon you again, Senators, to rally against this moneyed influence. If you don't, the little remnant of property the people have left, will fall into the hands of Shylocks. I will call your attention again, Senators, to the fact that currency is based on public confidence, and not on the intrinsic value of the gold, which fixes the value of all kinds of property. Gold itself is less valuable than iron, intrinsically. Still a pound of gold will buy a ton of iron. A very small amount of gold will give credit to a large amount of paper currency. The paper currency has no intrinsic value, whatever, but its value rests on the confidence that it will be redeemed, agreeable to the promises on the face of the bills, that are proposed to be issued by this bill. They promise to pay to bearer, at maturity, the 1st of January 1873, on presentment, at the public Treasury. Will not this promise give these bills credit certainly. It will, and fears that are entertained that it will not, are groundless, and have no foundation to rest upon. But if this bill fails, I hope the Public Treasurer will submit his plan, as he has interposed his veto to this bill, and defeated it as he did in 1866.

President's Swain's Lecture.

At the solicitation of friends of the University, President Swain delivered a Lecture in the House of Commons, on Saturday night last, to an appreciative and interested audience. The Senate had agreed to a night session, but after considering a few private bills adjourned to hear the Lecture.

It embraced a very succinct but necessarily brief history of this venerable institution, beginning with its incipiency when the State Convention incorporated in the Constitution the requisition upon the General Assembly to inaugurate and sustain one or more Universities.—The fathers of the State government were the founders and patrons of it. It had been the pride of the State through all its stages, had sent out large numbers of men who had contributed largely in all sections to the progress and glory of the country. The University, with pride and pleasure, had; to the extent of its means educated, free of cost, numbers of young men who had done her and the State honor, and in doing this, she had more than remunerated the State for all it had done for the University. She had been prosperous—then all were proud of her; but now when embarrassed by causes beyond her control, she needed help, and the Legislature had extended help, but not to the extent of her necessities. It had granted her the Agricultural scrip—that was right; but it had also required of the University in consideration of the interest to be derived from the scrip, to give tuition and room-rent free to one student from each County in the State. That was also right.

We are not prepared to give such an account of the Lecture as we desired. It was listened to with marked attention by many citizens and members of the Legislature, who manifested great interest to the end.

February Term of Wake County Court, is in session this week. The election of County officers chiefly occupied its attention to day. We have not heard the result, except the election of Mr. High, County Trustee, and Mr. Holleman, Superintendant of the County Work House.

We regret to learn that Capt. E. A. Martin, one of the Commoners from Northampton, has been compelled to leave on account of the severe illness of one of his children. This accounts for his absence from his seat.

From Washington.

Correspondence of the Baltimore Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.

Very painful rumors have been current for the past twenty four hours, the exact character of which however, it would be as yet improper to state. They may have had their origin in a few facts of public notoriety, which, of themselves, would not perhaps warrant the grave apprehension afloat: An official notice has been issued from the Treasury Department, announcing its requirement of the test oath as a preliminary qualification for employees, thus repudiating the gist of the decision of the Supreme Court. It is known that the secretary of the Treasury has recently appointed a negro to a clerkship and assigned him a desk among the other clerks. It is stated that in the appointments of the inferior postmasters the recommendation of the member of Congress in who's district the vacancy occurs is said to be conclusive by the Department, and that in the departments generally the voice of the Radicals is potential. It is also known that several Senators of the most rabid stamp have, further proceedings in the great impeachment; and, lastly, the Chronicle of this morning makes the following announcement:

"There was a well-authenticated rumor last night that the President had finally resolved to abandon his costly Copperhead allies by proposing impartial suffrage and the ratification of the constitutional amendment."

I submit these facts in advance of any definite statement of the character of the rumors to which I have referred, and upon which they may have been based, out which do not seem to justify their entire accuracy. It is proper, however, to add that the "Blaine amendment" is in substance the same as the plan of Mr. Banks, which he intimated would unite the different departments of the Government.

During the discussion of the bills lately passed by the House a great deal was said about the political opinions of certain Generals. It was remarked, however, that although nearly all the rest were claimed by the Radicals as coinciding with them in their mad policy, the name of Sherman was not once referred to. Farnsworth avowed with an air of authority that General Grant favored the very bill that contemplated making him the military depot of the South. This was carrying the brag game a little too far. The delicacy of the General could hardly stand that, and consequently a disclaimer was duly authorized. But wherefore the vital importance of great names now? The Northern Democracy surely by this time might be deemed convinced that they have to deal and will deal with things. As for the South unmistakable evidence exists that the people there have concluded to free themselves from all entanglements of every description.

While the present temper of Congress continues, and, indeed, in the existing condition of the Northern mind, no better advice could be given the South (if it stands in need of any advice at all) than that which I understand has been tendered by Greeley to many anxious inquirers. He tells the Southern people to attend exclusively to the recuperation of their pecuniary and industrial condition; to eschew all useless propositions for the settlement of the disgraceful controversy now going on between the conflicting factions of the Republican party; to pay no attention whatever to what this, that or the other "distinguished Radical" or "General" may say or refuse to say, and especially to move on, without fear and without reproach, and not care a d—n what Congress may do or what Congress may not do.

Stevens' Bill Discussed but not Passed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.

In the House, concurrent resolutions of the Legislature of New York approving the District of Columbia suffrage was presented.

The alleged corruption of members involving the honor of the House bill by promising not to do certain things if the President changed his policy, embracing who the members were and who carried the message between them and the President, was referred to a select committee of three.

Two and a quarter millions was appropriated to the revenue cutter service.

A bill providing for a President in case of a vacancy passed. It provides first, for the President of the Senate pro tem, then the Speaker of the House, and after him the Supreme Court Judge succeeds.

The Senate insisted on the amendment to the Bankrupt bill, and asked a committee of conference.

Stevens' bill was resumed.

Mr. Doolittle said that it was a declaration of war against the ten States. He closed his speech at half past four, and Mr. Saulsbury took the floor and spoke till the recess.

The Republican caucus appointed a committee of seven to combine Stevens' and Elliot's bills, to apply to all the Southern States.

Stevens' and Elliot's Bills Combined offered by Sherman, of Ohio, and Passed by the Senate, 6 o'clock Sunday Morning.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.

Mr. Sherman's substitute passed at half past six this morning 29 to 10, which is substantially Blaine's amendment, and is in substance as follows:

In the preamble the military provisions and Districts are similar to those of Stevens' bill, only the President instead of the General appoints officers. Sentences of death require the President's approval, and the habeas corpus is not suspended beyond, that all interference of the State authority with the military authority is nullified.

Section 5th provides that when any rebel State forms a Constitution in conformity with the Constitution of the United States, framed by a Convention, the delegates to be elected by male citizens twenty-one years of age, without regard to race, color or previous condition, resident in the State a year, except persons disfranchised by participation in rebellion, or felony.

When the Constitution provides that the elective franchise may be enjoyed by all persons qualified to vote for delegates, and the Constitution is ratified by a majority of the electors who elected the delegates, is submitted to Congress and approved, and when the said State Legislature elected under the said Constitution adopts the Constitutional amendment, and the said amendment becomes a part of the National Constitution, the said State is declared entitled to representation, and the Senators and Representatives therefrom, shall be admitted on their taking the oath prescribed by law.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.

The Texas attorneys have commenced proceedings in the Supreme Court against White, Childs, Vanderberg and others, for a hundred thousand dollars of Texas indemnity bonds, obtained on unfulfilled and alleged unlawful contracts during the rebellion. The Secretary of the Treasury was notified of the proceedings and the payment of the bonds are stopped, pending the suit by order of the Court. The case involves nice political questions.

Sherman's substitute will meet serious opposition in the House. Several republicans, including Stevens, are opposed to it. Brandegee is reported to be indignant that the President is to appoint officers and approve death sentences, and the Federal courts allowed to issue habeas corpus. The friends of the measure apprehend that the veto and bolters will defeat the entire measure.

Three Senators voted nay on the motion to substitute Sherman's substitute for Stevens' bill, namely: Saulsbury, Bookalew and Davis. An amendment that all punishments under Sherman's substitute be according to law was defeated by 8 to 29.

Ireland is perfectly tranquil. A small number of rebels are concealed in the woods endeavoring to make their way to the coast. The troops are so disposed that their escape is thought to be impossible. Troops have been sent to Malahide with the hope of overhauling Stevens, who is reported to be in that neighborhood.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.

Wentworth's corruption Committee creates more amusement than apprehension. Two enterprising newspaper men engineered the thing. The primary object being a big item. Congressmen were approached and encouraged to visit the President, to whom the President's views seemed moderate, and showed intense anxiety to harmonize the country. The interviews were sound and free, officially binding neither party.

The President is represented to be utterly opposed to Congressional interference with State electors.

Latest from Washington.

WASHINGTON, 5 40 P. M.

Previous question on Sherman's substitute been seconded, and by previous agreement House took recess to seven o'clock, when the bill will pass unless opponents fillibuster.—Extreme Radicals oppose violently, and Democrats determinedly. It cannot pass over the veto.

WE OFFER TO THE PUBLIC THIS CELEBRAted Oil, and in doing so we unhesitatingly pronounce it SUPERIOR TO ANY BURNING OIL IS USE. It is Non-Explosive. Free from Grease. It will not grease the hands. It will not soil or grease the clothing. It is more brilliant than Gas. It produces a soft and beautiful light. It is not so trying to the eyes. It can be used in any Kerosene Lamp by adopting our LIGHT HOUSE OR RATCHET BURNERS.

It has been most favorably received, and pronounced by judges to be the

THE BEST AND MOST RELIABLE OIL

now in the market; and in consequence of the many serious accidents arising from the EXPLOSION OF KEROSENE, this Oil is extensively known and used in preference.

We are now prepared to furnish the trade with this valuable Oil, and we solicit from the public an examination and trial.

We have on hand a large stock of

and can supply the trade on liberal terms.

PERUVIAN GUANO SUBSTITUTE!

BAUGH'S

RAW BONE SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME.

Manufactured under the formula originated in 1854 and patented by

BAUGH & SONS,

SOLE PROPRIETORS, AT THE

Delaware River Chemical Works,

PHILADELPHIA, U. S. A.

This old established MANURE is manufactured from Bones that have not been burned or steamed, and it contains all their original organic matter. It is active in its operation, and is a fertilizer of great durability. It does not exhaust the soil like Peruvian Guano, but on the contrary permanently improves it.

Previous to 1861 it was introduced into the Southern States to considerable extent, and again in 1865, where it has been used with remarkable success upon Cotton, Corn, Tobacco, and all Crops.

A trial will convince any planter of its merits.—Pamphlets containing well-known Southern evidence furnished upon application to New York or Philadelphia offices.

☞ Sold by Dealers in all the principal cities and towns throughout the United States and British Provinces.

FERTILIZERS FOR SPRING CROPS.

WE beg to inform the trade and planters of North Carolina and Virginia, that we are prepared to furnish them with the most approved FERTILIZERS, on the most accommodating terms. We will have a stock of genuine PERUVIAN GUANO, purchased direct from the Agent of the Peruvian Government.

We have now in store, for immediate delivery, 325 tons BRADLEY'S SUPER PHOSPHATE OF LIME, which won for itself and an enviable reputation in the Cotton and Tobacco counties of North Carolina and Virginia, last season, proving itself equal, and in many important respects, superior to the Peruvian Guano. We give an analysis of it as ascertained by Dr. Hayes, one of the most eminent Chemists in the country:

Results of Analyses Made of Bradley's Patent Super-Phosphate of Lime, as now sold by Wm. L. Bradley.

100 PARTS CONSIST OF
Moisture	5.30
Prepared animal matter, salts of Ammonia, fatty substances and Humus	38.50
Bone Phosphates of Lime, Magnesia and Iron	36.80
(Soluble Phosphates of do. 16 6-10.)
Sulphate of Lime	16.50
Salts	20
Insoluble	2.60
	99.90

The animal matter afforded 4 2-10 parts of Ammonia when it was decomposed, and, as will be seen, nearly one-half of the Bone Phosphate is soluble.

After many analyses of your Super-Phosphate of Lime, made during the last few months, I have found your standard of quality full equal to that of any you have ever sold in former years; and I am satisfied that you include the correct principles in the manufacture. Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

We refer to the following gentlemen who tested its merits last season:

HILLSBORO' MILITARY ACADEMY.

THIS well known and popular Institution is once more in successful operation, and is prepared for the reception of Cadets at any time.—It is under the direction of a graduate, and for fifteen years, (up to the commencement of the war) a

Professor of the Virginia
MILITARY INSTITUTE,

and a colleague of

STONEWALL JACKSON.

The course of the Institution is that of the Virginia Military Institute, and is such as to make the Academy a great

POLYTECHNIC SCHOOL.

A school of theoretical and applied science, in which Languages and Literature also receive a due share of attention. The discipline and instructions are on a Complete Military Basis.

The Faculty is for the present organized as follows:

Superintendent and Professor of Military History, Strategy and Political Economy, and Instructor of Infantry and Cavalry tactics, GEN. R. E. COLSTON, late Professor of French, and of Military History, Strategy and Political Economy at the Virginia Military Institute, and late Brig. General C. S. A.

Until the appointment of additional Professors, Gen. Colston takes charge of the Department of French and English studies and Belles Lettres.

Professor of Natural and Experimental Philosophy, Ordnance, Gunnery and instructor of Artillery tactics, Major D. TRUEHEART, Graduate of the Virginia Military Institute in 1850—afterwards Assistant Professor of the Va. Military Institute—attached to the United States Coast Survey—late Major and Chief of Artillery in the C. S. Army.

Professor of Mathematics, Civil and Military Engineering, Architecture, Topographical and Industrial Drawing, and Assistant Instructor of Infantry tactics, Maj. W. A. OBENCHAIN, "first distinguished Graduate," of his Class in the Virginia Military Institute, and for efficient and meritorious services during the war, promoted Captain of Engineers in the late C. S. Army.

Professor of Chemistry, Agricultural Chemistry, Geology and Mineralogy, Col. LEWELLYN HOXTON, "Distinguished graduate" of West Point Military Academy, and late Chief of Artillery to Hardee's Corps.

Professor of Latin, French, Ethics and Belles Lettres, to be appointed shortly.

Surgeon Drs. E. & W. S. STRUDWICK.

New appointments will be made, and the Chairs now filled will be subdivided as soon as the number of Cadets makes it desirable.

Applicants for Professorships must be gentlemen of Scientific and Military education, who have served in the field.

Candidates for admission as Cadets are advised to come without delay. Until the 1st. of February next, all those Cadets present at the Academy, will be pushed forward in their studies irrespective of classes, so as to enable them, at that time, to enter the most advanced classes for which they may be found qualified.

By coming at once they may gain an entire year in the term of their education.

LIFE INSURANCE.

MANY insure their lives because they see the folly of neglecting to do so. Many who do not insure argue that it is folly to insure. Which is right? If those who do not insure can cite instances of the harm done by a policy of life Insurance, if they can point out men who have lost $5,000 to $100,000 by Life Insurance, then upon proof of same, we must believe them. Hundreds of instances can readily be shown where parties have been benefitted to this extent. In North Carolina there are some Widows and Children ready to testify to the good resulting from a life Insurance on their only earthly dependence.

The "Ætna Life Co., in loosing $23,000 the past year has relieved want—and now with over $4,000,000 of assets—offers sure protection to all those who will avail themselves of her liberal terms, by calling on 1867. "THE WORLD" 1867.

THE ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC IS INVITED to the claims of "THE WORLD" as one of the leading public journals of the country. It is the chief organ of the Democratic Party of the United States, and the foremost advocate of the immediate restoration of the Union. Its highest merit consists in its character as An enterprising and Trustworthy Newspaper.

The next year bids fair to be a more critical one in the history of our free institutions, than even any of the eventful ones that have preceded it. The first requisite for an intelligent judgment of public affairs is a full and authentic account of facts as they transpire. These THE WORLD always aims to give with conscientious accuracy, and with equal fullness and fidelity, whether they make for or against its own views of public policy. Prompt activity in spreading before its readers every kind of news in which any part of the public takes an interest, is the first duty of a newspaper, and the facilities of THE WORLD for discharging this obligation are unsurpassed by those of any journal in the United States. Whatever else it may fail in, it certainly will not fail to furnish the news, nor to supply it with such promptitude, accuracy, freshness, abundance, variety, accuracy, and candor, that no class of readers can miss anything of interest which they wish to find. THE WORLD will publish documents and arguments prepared by political foes just as freely as those prepared by political friends; making its own comments on them, of course, but never suppressing or garbling them because they are calculated to damage its own party. Adverse arguments which it cannot refute, it is content to leave to make their full impression. THE WORLD adopts the rule because it believes no other is honest; because it conceives that its first duty to its readers is to keep them thoroughly informed on every passing subject of importance.
